

STARCUT 1210

The STARCUT 1210 takes rotary mulching technology to a higher level than ever before. Aimed at the top end of the large contractor and agricultural markets, the STARCUT 1210 delivers unparalleled performance and reliability essential for high output applications.

Despite the sheer scale of the decks, this latest breakthrough enables easier transportation within the legal width and height requirements. Even more significantly unfolding of the machine is achieved automatically without having to change PTO settings or connections.
